

Symphony and FactSet Announce Strategic Partnership to Enable Real-Time Collaboration Across the Financial Services Industry

June 30, 2016

PALO ALTO, CA, June 30, 2016 – Symphony Communication Services, LLC, the secure collaboration and workflow technology company, and FactSet, a leading provider of integrated financial information and analytical applications, today announced a new partnership. Together, the firms are working on seamless integration of the FactSet platform with Symphony's communications platform to enable real-time collaboration across the financial services industry.

As a result of the partnership, investment professionals will have access to the best of both worlds – Symphony's rich, secure messaging experience integrated with FactSet's superior analytics, content, and technology.

"We are thrilled to welcome FactSet, a core supplier of market data and analytics, to the Symphony partner ecosystem," notes David Gurlé, founder and CEO, Symphony. "As FactSet is known as a product innovator, we believe that together we have an opportunity to fundamentally transform how investment professionals work."

"Enterprise-wide collaboration across members of the financial investment community will dramatically improve industry productivity," states Phil Snow, CEO, FactSet. "This partnership reinforces FactSet's commitment to delivering solutions that help our clients be more efficient across their workflows."
