Tokyo-based asset manager increases trading efficiencies with FactSet's cutting-edge trading software

NORWALK, Conn. and TOKYO, Japan, Oct. 06, 2022 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- FactSet (NYSE:FDS) (NASDAQ:FDS), a global provider of integrated financial information, analytical applications, and industry-leading services, announced that Tokyo-based asset manager Rheos Capital Works has deployed FactSet's Portware Execution Management System (EMS) firmwide to power its trading workflow.

Portware is FactSet's advanced multi-asset EMS, used by leading buy-side traders worldwide. Portware enables traders to analyze, communicate, and execute orders with diverse market participants and liquidity destinations through highly efficient, customized, and automated workflows.

"The deployment of Portware at a pioneering asset manager such as Rheos is evidence of the power and sophistication of our EMS product," said Takuya Nagai, Senior Sales Specialist for AsiaPac EMS Solutions at FactSet. "We are thrilled to work with Rheos as a client, and we look forward to growing our relationship."

"Working closely with FactSet, the custom implementation of Portware at Rheos included the integration of our unique workflow requirements, as well as Japanese language support," said Takehiro Okada, head of the trading department at Rheos Capital Works. "The support we received from FactSet during the transition was unmatched, and we have increased the efficiency of our trading team with Portware's flexible process and trade automation capabilities."
